» Destination: Excellence overview

When your employees go to work in the morning, they probably take it for granted that, at the end of the day, they'll return home safe and sound. Sadly, some do not.

Unfortunately, workplace injuries, illnesses and deaths affect many lives in Ohio. They impact not only the injured worker, but their family and friends as well. Whether your employees are firefighters, police officers, factory workers or office workers, workplace injuries, illnesses and even deaths do occur.

We created Destination: Excellence to help you:

- Increase workplace safety;
- Enable injured workers to recover sooner and return to work;
- Add convenience and savings to managing your workers' compensation insurance policy.

Why participate?

The biggest benefit of Destination: Excellence's programs may be the difference they make in your employees' safety and well-being. However, you can also receive financial incentives for participation. Our safety programs can help you prevent, or at least minimize, the extent of accidents in your workplace, and our return-to-work options can help your injured workers recover faster, helping them get their life back to normal after an accident does happen.

Your participation in these programs may positively affect your future premiums as well. Keeping a safe work environment, preventing accidents and minimizing lost time are all helpful for keeping the cost of workers' compensation insurance under control. A good safety record may enable you to participate in the rating options that provide significant savings.

» Industry-Specific Safety Program

What is it?

We created the Industry-Specific Safety Program with the goal of increasing workplace safety and preventing accidents. The program does this by enhancing your company's safety knowledge and awareness of potential dangers in the workplace. This is accomplished through various loss-prevention activities, including:

- Consulting with our experts to identify hazards;
- Participating in classroom and online training to learn best practices for your industry;
- Attending the Ohio Safety Congress & Expo to increase safety knowledge, network with other safety professionals and to discover some of the latest safety products and services.

Why participate?

A safer workplace can reduce or eliminate accidents, reducing the financial and human costs of claims.

- A safer workplace can increase morale and productivity, and lower downtime.
- Fewer, less-severe accidents can lower your workers' compensation insurance rates.
- Our safety services and resources are available at no additional cost to you. In fact, your company gets an incentive for using them!

Potential incentive

Your company can earn a 3-percent pure premium rebate by meeting the program's requirements. More importantly, you'll learn best practices related to your industry and practical methods for improving workplace safety and health.

» Drug-Free Safety Program

What is it?

We created the Drug-Free Safety Program (DFSP) to help employers more effectively prevent on-the-job injuries and illness by integrating drug-free efforts into their overall workplace safety program. The DFSP can help employers achieve both long-range safety and cost-saving benefits.

Why participate?

Substance use and abuse can be a problem in almost any workplace. Workers with substance abuse problems:

- Can be a hazard to themselves and their co-workers;
- Increase medical costs for their employers;
- Are more likely to miss work and/or cause reduced productivity.

By participating in the DFSP, you'll take steps to improve the health and well-being of your workforce as well as improving safety in your workplace. Activities such as accident analysis, drug testing, employee education and the development of safety plans will help you achieve these goals. Your employees will be safer, and you can save money with rebates in the short term, and possibly lower premiums over the long term.

Potential incentive

Your company can earn a 4-percent pure premium rebate by meeting the DFSP Basic level requirements or a 7-percent pure premium rebate by meeting the Advanced level requirements. More importantly, you'll create a safer workplace that's free of drug and alcohol abuse.

Program requirements

Basic level requirements:

- Actively incorporate an alcohol and drug testing and education program at your workplace where you test during the following:
  - o Pre-employment;
  - o In cases of reasonable suspicion;
  - o After an accident, returning to duty and any follow-up testing.
- Specific documentation, training, and reporting requirements will help you run and implement the safety aspect of your drug-testing program.

Advanced level requirements:

- Basic level requirements and the following:
  - o 15-percent random testing;
  - o Provide employee assistance for substance abuse (pay initial assessment).
  - o Submit a safety action plan (BWC's form DFSP-5)

Employer eligibility requirements – State-fund employer, current on all undisputed premiums, active coverage as of application deadline, and no cumulative lapses greater than 40 days during the previous 12 months.

» Transitional Work Bonus Program

What is it?

In some cases, as an injured worker progresses toward recovery, he or she will be medically released to return to work with temporary physical restrictions. Transitional work is a formal approach to accommodate those restrictions. It assigns temporary, productive work tasks with physician approval, enabling the worker to return to work in a safe and timely fashion.

The Transitional Work Bonus Program provides a framework and incentive to encourage employers to use transitional work as a strategy to help injured workers recover faster and to return to work.

Why participate?

Research shows transitional work can help injured workers recover faster. It allows them to reconnect earlier with their employer and co-workers.

The company benefits from bringing back the worker's knowledge, skill and experience. It saves on costs associated with hiring and training substitute employees. Other benefits may include:

- Improved employee relations and morale;
- Minimized chance of malingering and its associated costs;
- Reduced costs associated with claims; may prevent future premium increases.

Injured workers benefit by receiving a full paycheck with the goal of returning to their original job. They are back with their colleagues, contributing to the team.

Potential incentive

Your company can earn up to a 10-percent bonus of your annual pure premium for successfully using transitional work. We also offer grants to help you develop a transitional work program.

BWC determines the percentage of eligible claims that were successfully returned to work using transitional work, and multiplies that percentage by 10 percent.

- Eligible claim – One in which there's a release to return to work with restrictions for the job of injury; dates of injury within the program year

Program requirements

- Verification that your company has a transitional work plan when your company applies for the first time
- Successfully return an injured worker released with restrictions back to work by accommodating their restrictions.

Employer eligibility requirements – State-fund employer, current on all undisputed premiums, active coverage as of application deadline, and no cumulative lapses greater than 40 days during the previous 12 months.

- Check your company's eligibility to participate in the program.

Program compatibility – Participate in the program if your company is in any of the following rating frameworks at the start of the program year:

- Base- or individual- experience rated, and group-experience-rating program;
  - Not compatible with retrospective-rating program, group-retrospective-rating program, and all deductible programs.

- For private employers
  - Last business day of May for upcoming program year July 1 to June 30.

» Vocational Rehabilitation

What is it?

Vocational rehabilitation rewards employers who work with medical partners and BWC to use vocational rehabilitation strategies and/or services to help their injured workers return safely to productive employment.

When would you use it?

Use vocational rehabilitation when an injured worker faces significant barriers to returning to work.

What's involved in a rehabilitation plan?

The managed care organization (MCO) hires a vocational case manager, a third-party provider, to work with the injured worker, employer and physician to identify an explicit path and formulate a plan to return the injured worker back to work.

The vocational case manager handles the logistics of executing the plan, including seeking authorization of services by the MCO, hiring of vendor services as needed and monitoring the injured worker's progress.

Why use vocational rehabilitation?

Use vocational rehabilitation to help your injured employee overcome the employment challenges that their injuries have created.

BWC charges the costs to the surplus fund, not to the claim. This could help your company's experience rating, which is a primary factor in calculating the premiums that you pay.

Potential incentives

BWC charges rehabilitation services costs to the surplus fund.*

Below are some of the available services and benefits.

For employers

- Complementary transitional work and ergonomics assessments of the work site
- Reimbursement for specific tools or equipment needed to facilitate an injured worker's return to work
- Job modification: removal or alteration of physical barriers that may prohibit an injured worker from performing the essential functions of the job (costs charged to the surplus fund)
- Payments to employers for on-the-job training, gradual return to work and work trials
- Negotiated employer incentive contracts to defray the temporary costs of lost productivity while the worker gets up to full working capacity
- Costs associated with a transitional work program within a vocational rehab plan are charged to the surplus fund
- Possible handicap reimbursement if an injured worker files a lost-time claim for an injury for which they completed a rehabilitation program

For injured workers

- Living maintenance benefits instead of temporary total compensation
- Job-seeking skills – job placement and development; skill enhancement/training
- Building physical stamina through work hardening, work simulation and general reconditioning

Employer eligibility and program compatibility

Employer eligibility – You can use rehabilitation services with eligible claims with any date of injury.

Program compatibility – Compatible with all rating frameworks.

To participate

- Call your local BWC customer service office to refer your injured worker for vocational rehabilitation.
- There is no enrollment deadline – request on a claim-by-claim basis.

**Except for those self-insuring employers who have opted out of the program*
